~ You are invited ~
Enjoy and discuss scholarly works by the faculty and staff at the College of Coastal Georgia in the College’s Southeast Georgia Conference Center Free and Open to the Public

Coastal Scholars Showcase 2020

Thurs, Feb 6th 6 PM – 8 PM
Panel Discussion: “The College’s Impact on the Golden Isles” followed by a reception featuring food prepared by the Culinary Arts program, presentations of Research Posters and a gallery walk of Visual Arts

Fri, Feb 7th 9 AM – 4 PM
Scholarly Work presented in concurrent 20- and 40-minute sessions

~ Schedule of Events ~
Thurs, Feb 6th – Panel Discussion and Reception with Gallery Walk
6:00 – 7:00 PM Panel Discussion: “The College’s Impact on the Golden Isles” - Over the past year, the economic impact of the College on the area was $104 million and 1,214 jobs, including on-campus jobs and off-campus jobs related to institutional spending. Panelists from across the College will present and answer questions about how their departments contribute to the success of the local area. Panelists: Tate Holbrook, Neda Moinolmolki, Lee McKinley, Carol Geiken, Nevada LeCounte, and Cody Cocchi. Moderator: Don Mathews.

7:00 – 8:00 PM Reception and Gallery Walk
Food: Prepared by the Culinary Arts program
Visual Arts: Selected works by Professor Jeff LeMieux
Research Posters:
- Emily Boyle, Arts & Humanities, “Critically Reading the Media”
- Cody Cocchi, Service-Learning, “Vertically Aligned Service-Learning Experiences & their Effect on Nursing Student Attitudes”
- Neda Moinolmolki & Kayla Broughton, Social Sciences, “The Perspectives of Community Members on a Pilot Intergenerational Service-Learning Project”
- Jennifer Hatchel, Natural Sciences, “How Do You Encourage Service-Learning in a Microbiology Class? You Spend a Day at an Elementary School!”
- Gerard White, Natural Sciences, “SEA-PHAGES Laboratory Research – Providing Undergraduate Students with Opportunities for Research Experiences”

Fri, Feb 7th – Presentations and Research Posters
9:00 AM Registration, refreshments, and gallery walk items to view
9:10 – 9:30 AM Nicole Masano, Nursing, “Educational Program for Obstetric Nurses: How to Effectively Screen for Intimate Partner Violence”
9:40 – 10:00 AM Carla Bluhm, Social Sciences, “The Psychology of Long-Distance Walking”
9:40 – 10:00 AM Aaron Yeager, Mathematics, “Real Zeros of Random Sums with I.I.D. Coefficients”
10:10-10:50 AM Jeff LeMieux, Arts & Humanities, “Why Art Matters”
11:00-11:20 AM Roscoe Scarborough, Social Sciences, “Interactional Politics of Masculinity in the Fire Service”
11:00-11:20 AM Wanda DeLeo, SBPM, “Benefits of an Accounting Internship”
11:30-11:50 AM Jeffrey Butcher, Arts & Humanities, “Proletarian Shakespeares: Class-Consciousness and The Tempest”
11:30-11:50 AM Jessica Melilli-Hand, Arts & Humanities, “Jane Poems and Selected Other: Performative Reading and Craft Talk”
12:00-12:40 PM Tyler Bagwell, Arts & Humanities, “The Jekyll Island Club”
12:00-12:40 PM Don Mathews, SBPM, “George Orwell on Capitalism and Socialism: Irony, Insights and Blind Spots”
12:40-1:30 PM Break for Lunch – conference resumes with poster session and presentations after lunch!
1:40-2:20 PM Poster Sessions with scholars standing by to discuss (please see poster descriptions above)
1:40-2:20 PM Michael Butcher, Student Affairs, “Is Social Media Making Us Lonely and Unhappy?”
2:30-3:10 PM Tyler Bagwell, Arts & Humanities, “CCGA American Studies/ Interdisciplinary Studies Student Film Screening”
3:20-4:00 PM David Mulry, Arts & Humanities, “Shadow Text: Working with Manuscript revisions in Joseph Conrad’s writing”
3:20-4:00 PM Karen Hambright and Cathy Culver, Social Sciences and Arts & Humanities, “Informing the Public: The complex and considered rationales for the use of nonhuman animals in scientific research”

Food sponsored by the Office of Academic Affairs and the School of Business and Public Management