STUDENT PROFILE: JOEY LANE

Finding a Special Niche

Joey Lane is a nursing student at the College of Coastal Georgia. Joey is a Brantley County native who found his passion in healthcare and turned to his other passion—where critical care meets end of life and palliative care. He recognizes himself in her. To see how she was comforted by a simple task truly amazed Lane. He wants to spend more time since she had her hair done and he was given a photo of what she used to look like. When he volunteers at Hospice of Golden Isles and developed a program where he did hair for hospice patients. She had the idea to merge his love of doing hair with nursing. He did his prerequisites for nursing and hairdressing are both service jobs, and involves life. He still felt the tug for a career in healthcare. He said hairdressing prepared him for nursing school.
