LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT & BOARD CHAIR

Dear Friends and Supporters,

Your generosity continues to move us forward.

Because of your commitment to the College of Coastal Georgia, 2024 marked our third consecutive year exceeding $2 million in fundraising — a remarkable milestone that speaks to the strength of our community and the confidence you place in the mission of the College of Coastal Georgia. Even more inspiring, the Foundation had more individual donors than ever before, demonstrating broad and growing support for the College and its students.

The Foundation is proud to have concluded its inaugural Navigator Society annual campaign and looks to build on this success on an on-going basis. The Navigator Society provides unrestricted support to the College.

These results are more than numbers — results represent lives changed, opportunities created, and a future built on access, excellence, and hope. The continued growth in scholarship support is especially meaningful, as it opens doors for students who might not otherwise have the chance to pursue a college degree.

Your investment in our students is an investment in Coastal Georgia. As we look ahead, the momentum continues. From major construction projects like the Center for the Arts and the Nunnally Health and Science Building expansion, to new partnerships and academic initiatives, the future is bright — and your support makes it all possible.

On behalf of the College and the Foundation, thank you for your belief in our work, your trust in our mission, and your ongoing partnership. We are grateful for all you do to help us grow, serve, and inspire.

Thank you for being a part of our success.

Johnny Evans Jr., Ph.D.

HIGHLIGHTS

THE CENTER FOR THE ARTS: A COMMUNITY DREAM TAKING SHAPE

The construction of the Center for the Arts at the College of Coastal Georgia is well underway. In April 2024, College officials, Foundation members, representatives from Glynn County Schools, and members of both the local and campus communities gathered to ceremonially break ground and celebrate the beginning of this transformative project.

The Center will feature a state-of-the-art auditorium with seating for up to 1,000 guests—or banquet accommodations for up to 500. The space is designed for professional-level acoustics and flexible use, making it ideal for musical concerts, dance performances, lectures, meetings, banquets, and other community events.

As construction progresses, the generosity of donors continues to shape the future of the Center. Many friends of the College have contributed to the naming of interior spaces, reflecting their deep commitment to the arts and education. Among these are:

- Brenda and Mac Nease and Anne and Bill Stembler, who named the Nease-Stembler Lobby.
- Diana and Reg Murphy, who purchased the Steinway Grand Piano.
- Elise and Lloyd Winans, Diana Murphy, and Dana and Patrick Parker, who each named box seats.
- Sybil Ralston honored her late husband, M. Edward “Ed” Ralston, by naming the Green Room.
- Deborah and David Wright, who named a dressing room in honor of their family.
- Denise and Glenn Hansen, who made a generous gift to name the Brancato Dressing Room.
- Christie and Tim Kinsey named the upper lobby atrium in honor of former College president Dr. Michelle R. Johnston.

THE CENTER FOR THE ARTS: A COMMUNITY DREAM TAKING SHAPE

These named gifts reflect a shared belief that the Center for the Arts is not only a transformative project, but a dream built on the hopes and aspirations of the community. In addition to these generous contributions, we are proud to recognize the many donors who are Founding Friends of the Center—visionaries whose early support laid the foundation for this cultural landmark. Their belief in the power of the arts and their investment in the College's future have been instrumental in bringing this dream to life.

GOING FULL CIRCLE

The College of Coastal Georgia Alumni Association was re-established in 2024 with the mission to engage all alumni in building a sense of belonging and community—celebrating successes, sharing opportunities, fostering lifelong connections, and carrying on the Mariner spirit. To unite alumni from all iterations of the institution, including community members and current students, the Alumni Association hosted a variety of events throughout the year.

The Association participated in First Friday in Downtown Brunswick, engaging with community members and alumni. In the fall, the Association hosted Alumni Weekend, which kicked off with the first annual Salty's Spooktacular Glow Run, featuring costumed runners. The weekend also included a tailgate, an alumni basketball game, and an alumni breakfast.

For many, college is a transformative experience that shapes careers, friendships, and personal growth. Giving back—whether financially, through time, or other resources—is a meaningful way alumni express gratitude and help ensure future students have equal or greater opportunities. Dr. Glenn Thomas Carson, a past president of the Alumni Association, has been a steadfast supporter of the College. During the 2024 Giving Tuesday campaign, which benefited the Coastal Georgia Alumni Association Endowed Scholarship, Carson led the way by being the first to contribute.

Lily Heidger, who graduated in May 2022 with a bachelor's degree in environmental science, is currently a doctoral student in geography at the University of California. She gives back monthly through a recurring donation to the College's environmental science program, inspired by the vital role scholarships played in her undergraduate success.

"The environmental science program prepared me immensely for grad school, and this is my way of supporting the future of the program, and ensuring that more students have the opportunity to find their love of learning and science," Heidger said. "I hope that these funds set students up for success and help equip more future scientists. I know these scholarships ensure that students from all backgrounds and experiences have the opportunity to pursue an education, and I am thrilled to be a small part of that."

ACADEMIC FOUNDATIONS OF EXCELLENCE

AN INTERNATIONAL ACADEMIC PARTNERSHIP

In a historic moment, the College of Coastal Georgia and Learning Unlimited Preparatory School of St. Maarten signed a memorandum of understanding, allowing students at Learning Unlimited to participate in joint enrollment at the College. Through this partnership, students were able to take online courses such as introduction to business, abnormal psychology, medical terminology, and biology.

This initiative marked the launch of the first and only joint enrollment partnership between a U.S. college and a school in the Caribbean. Amissa President, head of school for Learning Unlimited Preparatory School, visited the College campus along with students and their families to sign the agreement and celebrate the new partnership.

"For the last five years, we have been diligently working toward establishing a partnership with a college for a dual enrollment program. Today, I am thrilled that our efforts have come to fruition with this collaboration with the College of Coastal Georgia," President said. "The College of Coastal Georgia is renowned for its commitment to academic rigor, student success, and community engagement. By partnering with such an esteemed institution, we are providing our students with access to world-class education and professional resources. Together, we will share the future of education and create pathways for our students to achieve their full potential."

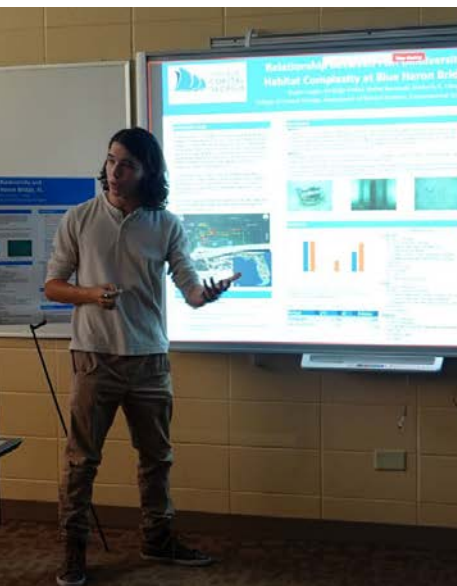

STUDENTS DIVE INTO RESEARCH

The Blue Heron Bridge, located in Riviera Beach, Florida, is one of the most popular dive and snorkel sites, known for its exciting underwater experience featuring artificial reefs and diverse marine life. The College of Coastal Georgia took advantage of this exceptional location to offer students a unique, hands-on opportunity to research marine life through a new summer course—scientific diving. In this course, students learned how to conduct research dives and later presented their projects at the College's first Scientific Diving Research Poster Presentation.

Assistant Professor of Environmental Science Dr. Kimberly Takagi was approached by a local dive shop about introducing the course to students. She then partnered with Oneida LG2 Environmental Solutions (LG2), which provided diver training for the course.

"The scientific diving course requires students to go through the safety training and techniques of how to do the science," Takagi said. "Then in the end, students are supposed to demonstrate that they can do the science in the field and collect the data."

Students designed and carried out their own projects to demonstrate their scientific diving skills under the supervision of faculty and LG2. The diving and skills training took place at Phil Foster Park, near Blue Heron Bridge, which also served as the site for their research on artificial reefs. Upon completion, the students became certified research divers under LG2's supervision. Their experience not only expanded their academic learning but also opened new avenues for future career opportunities.

COLLEGE BREAKS ITS DUAL ENROLLMENT RECORD

The College of Coastal Georgia began the Fall 2024 semester with two major milestones—the highest number of high school students enrolled through dual enrollment programs and the second-largest freshman class in its history. The freshman class was approximately 8.7% larger than the previous fall semester. In total, 3,621 students were enrolled at the College, including more than 500 high school students taking college courses.

While the number of local students increased slightly, most of the overall growth came from the College's broader five-county service area.

"We've done a lot of really good work not only recruiting local students but concentrating on our other markers," said Dr. Jason Umfress, vice president for student affairs and enrollment management, adding that College officials have been "hitting the road and telling the good story about the college, what we offer, what makes us unique."

ATHLETICS

STRENGTH, SPIRIT, AND SUCCESS

Zack Rogers was named director of athletics in June 2024, after previously serving as interim deputy athletics director since January 2023. Prior to that, he spent seven seasons as the coach for Men's and Women's Tennis. During his time as interim director, several teams earned National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) Scholar Team honors, and many student-athletes received All-Conference and All-American recognition.

Softball player Mackenzie Southerland made College history as the first Mariner to receive the 2024 NAIA Rawlings Gold Glove Award, presented by the National Fastpitch Coaches Association. The award honors players who demonstrate exceptional defensive performance and a strong work ethic. Southerland was one of just three Mariners to play and start in all 53 games during the 2024 season, helping lead the team to the NAIA National Tournament.

Dee Davis established the Eddy H. and Dee Davis Memorial Scholarship for Men's Golf in memory of her late husband, Eddy H. Davis. Davis had a deep passion for international business, which took him around the globe throughout his career. In 2008, he and his wife purchased a home on Sea Island, and when asked about his favorite place in the world, he would quickly reply, "St. Simons and Sea Island."

Although he enjoyed many activities, golf was his favorite. He was an active member and board member of both the Sea Island Seniors and the Men's Golf Association. The scholarship benefits a player on the Men's Golf team, honoring his love for the sport and his connection to the community.

SPORTS STATS

- National Tournament Qualifiers: Men's Golf, Women's Golf, and Softball
- 2024 Fall Semester: 70% of our student-athletes had above a 3.5 GPA
- Six of our seven teams were recognized as NAIA All-Scholar Teams
- Only institution within the University System of Georgia recognized as a Gold Level 5-Star Institution
- Tim MacAllister hired as coach for the Men's Basketball team
- Courtney Rutherford hired as coach for both Men's and Women's Tennis teams

SCHOLARSHIPS & GIFTS

A CLEARER PICTURE: GIFT ADVANCES RADIOLOGIC SCIENCE INNOVATION

The School of Nursing and Health Sciences boasts state-of-the-art equipment designed to prepare nursing, radiologic science, and other health professional students for their careers. The simulation labs provide students with opportunities to practice their skills in realistic scenarios and settings. Because Coastal Georgia is located in an area with smaller hospitals, students may not encounter the same range of clinical situations seen in larger, more active facilities. The simulation lab helps bridge that gap by offering high-quality equipment and increased hands-on time for each student—often exceeding what is available in comparable programs.

Thanks to the generosity of Ron and Carla Kalil, the simulation lab has taken another major leap forward. Already strong supporters of the radiologic science program, the Kalils have a long history of giving to the College. In addition to establishing the Ron and Carla Kalil Scholarship Endowment for radiologic science students and funding two portable digital X-ray machines, they made a transformative $300,000 gift to purchase a state-of-the-art X-ray System Room and various manikins—also known as phantoms—which are highly sophisticated and closely mimic the human body.

“The Kalils want to have a positive impact on others. Their support through scholarships has changed the trajectory of our students’ lives,” said Ashleigh Spurlock, lecturer of the radiologic science and program director. “Their gifts allow us to better train our students to practice empathy, high-quality patient care, communication skills, high-level critical thinking, and exam performance.”

SERVING UP OPPORTUNITY

Glynn Visual Arts is committed to building a thriving arts community that enriches the vibrant culture of Coastal Georgia. Their support of the Department of Hospitality, Tourism, and Culinary Arts at the School of Business and Public Management reflects their belief in empowering students to create culinary masterpieces and host memorable events that bring people together. To further this mission, Glynn Visual Arts established the Glynn Visual Arts Department of Hospitality, Tourism, and Culinary Arts Scholarship, which benefits students enrolled in either the hospitality, tourism, and event management program or the culinary arts program.

The Terry Thomas Foundation continued its support of the College of Coastal Georgia's mission and vision for student success by presenting a gift to support the expansion of the College's culinary arts and hospitality, tourism, and event management programs in Downtown Brunswick. The gift contributed to the renovation of the former Village Oven, located at 1407 Union Street, into the newly named Terry Thomas Teaching Kitchen. This new location not only strengthens the College's connection to the Brunswick community but also provides expanded opportunities for culinary and hospitality students to engage in internships and educational experiences at local restaurants, hotels, resorts, and other culinary establishments.

FIVE STAR CREDIT UNION ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIP

The mission of the Five Star Credit Union Foundation is to provide funding for educational and training programs for young people, as well as for worthy organizations that help move communities forward. Five Star continued to support this mission by establishing the Five Star Credit Union Endowed Scholarship for deserving students at the College. Although preference is given to students who are members of the credit union or have family members who are, the scholarship is open to all students—ensuring broad access and opportunities for educational advancement. Through this scholarship and past gifts, Five Star not only invests in individual student success but also reinforces its commitment to uplifting entire communities through education.

HONORING THE PAST BY EMPOWERING THE FUTURE

Memorial scholarships honor the legacy of individuals who've made a meaningful impact in their communities, professions, or families. It is a great opportunity to turn loss into lasting purpose, inspiring recipients to carry forward the values and aspirations of those being remembered.

Milton H. “Woody” Woodside was a fixture in the Brunswick-Golden Isles community, serving as president of the Brunswick-Golden Isles Chamber of Commerce for 34 years. His contributions to the community were vast, including involvement in projects such as the Sidney Lanier Bridge, the Federal Law Enforcement Training Center, the deepening of the Brunswick harbor, Southeast Georgia Health System, the College of Coastal Georgia, the Leadership Glynn Program, and the development of Glynn County’s tourism industry. Despite an extensive list of accomplishments, awards, and board memberships, Woodside remained modest, always preferring to shine a light on others. The Milton Henry “Woody” Woodside, Jr. Endowed Scholarship benefits students at the College who demonstrate leadership or entrepreneurial skills, honoring a life dedicated to community improvement and enriching the lives of those who call the coast home.

Other memorial scholarships created in 2024 included the:

- Gail Lynn Ejlali Memorial Scholarship in Chemistry
- William “Bernard” McCloud Endowed Scholarship
- Eddy H. and Dee Davis Memorial Scholarship for Men’s Golf
- Thomas Davis Memorial Scholarship in Criminal Justice
- Dr. Jim Fullerton Memorial Study Abroad Scholarship
